"One of the most gratifying victories to all Democrats, to all Americans, is the overwhelming defeat of young Astor, the millionaire, who actually imagined that he could buy his way into Congress with gold coin and champagne, distributed in rum-shops and dance-houses. River Bottom Gives Way and Floods a Large Soft Coal Mine.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.-On Friday night the bed of Prairie creek broke through into one of the mines of the Chicago, Wilmington and Vermillion coal com-pany at Streator, in this State. The bed of the stream at the point where the break was made is only eight or nine inches above the bed of some 28 feet of inches above the bed of some 28 feet of quick sand, and the rains of Friday caused pressure enough to break through the bed and the quick sand into the mine. The hole thus made is about 200 by 450 feet. Only four men were working in the mine when the break occurred and all of them escaped. Most of the implements and all but two of the mules employed in the shaft were gotten out. employed in the shaft were gotten out. The loss to the company is estimated at $100.000. #### Who Will Constitute the Cabinet-A Disreputable Grant Ring-A Crowd of Third Termers.

WASHINGTON, November 12.-It is understood that during the President's visit to New York, the new Cabinet was virtually arranged, and the list of nominations to different foreign missions will at once be made up to be transmitted to the Senate in December. There is some difference of onlyion as to what the senate in December. difference of opinion as to what names are on the President's slate, but there is none as to the fact that it will be Stalwart to the core and as strongly Grant as it is possible to make it. The following is the slate according to the best infor-mation that can be obtained: Freling: huysen, of New Jersey, for Secretary of State; Folger, New York, Treasury; Chaffee, Colorado, Interior; Filley, Missouri, Postoffice; Sargent, California, Navy; Beale (credited to Pennsylvania) War; Howe, Wisconsin, Attorney General. These are all Grant men and Stalwarts. Some of them are very strong reminders of Grant's last malodorous ad ministration. Chaffee is a Colorado man, whose daughter married one of Grant's sons. He is rich and resides in New York. He will be credited to Colorado to save appearances, but he hasn't lived there for three years. He is just now engaged in a new star route scheme which will boom along gloriously when the old gang gets in. Beale lives in Washington, but at some time of his life was a native of Pennsylvania and will therefore be credited to that State. He is one of Grant's pets and keeps his Arabian horses. Filley, ex-Postmaster of St. Louis, sustained close relations with the whisky ring that brought so much scandal on the closing years of Grant's reign, and has stood by the old man through thick and thin. He made Missouri solid for Garnt in the last national convention and still has is it for a third term. Grant is the little tin god a third term. Grant is the little tin god that Filley worships. Old Timothy Howe was and is a bitter Grant man, and made a stinging speech in the Senate assailing Hayes and calling him a fraud. Frelinghuysen is a man of respectable attainments, but a bigoted partisan of Cirant. Sargent, of California, is a notorious jobber, and was repudiated by the results of the coming Year.
